Quantum Innovation Signs Major Distribution Agreement with Rapid7 Globally

Partnership expands access to industry-leading vulnerability management and security analytics solutions across multiple regions

Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, [Date] – Quantum Innovation today announced a significant global distribution agreement with Rapid7, a leader in vulnerability management, application security, and security analytics. This partnership positions Quantum Innovation as an authorized distributor of Rapid7's comprehensive security solutions across the Middle East, Asia-Pacific, and other key markets.

Rapid7's solutions, including the industry-renowned InsightVM vulnerability management platform and InsightIDR for security analytics and SIEM, empower organizations to reduce risk by providing visibility across their entire attack surface and enabling rapid threat detection and response.

"This global distribution agreement with Rapid7 represents a major milestone for Quantum Innovation," said Adnan Habib, Founder and CTO of Quantum Innovation. "Rapid7's solutions are trusted by thousands of organizations worldwide, and we are proud to bring these capabilities to our growing customer base across multiple regions. This partnership significantly expands our portfolio of world-class security solutions."

The distribution agreement enables Quantum Innovation to deliver Rapid7's full suite of solutions, including:
- InsightVM for vulnerability management and risk prioritization
- InsightIDR for security analytics, SIEM, and threat detection
- InsightAppSec for dynamic application security testing
- InsightConnect for security orchestration and automation
- Metasploit for penetration testing and security validation

"We are delighted to partner with Quantum Innovation as a global distributor," said [Rapid7 Executive], [Title] at Rapid7. "Their proven track record in delivering enterprise security solutions, combined with their technical expertise and regional presence, makes them an excellent partner to expand our reach and deliver our solutions to organizations worldwide."

Through this partnership, Quantum Innovation will provide:
- Sales and technical pre-sales support
- Implementation and integration services
- Training and certification programs for Rapid7 solutions
